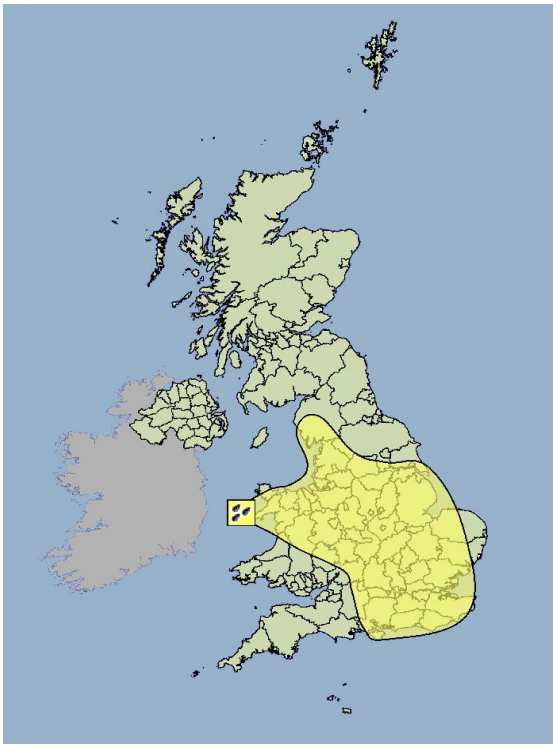
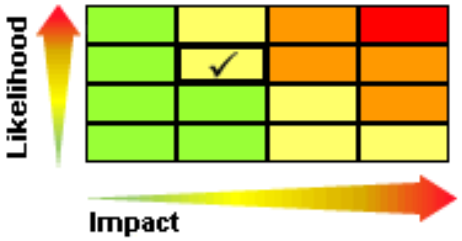
National Severe Weather Warning Service





Chief Forecasters Assessment
A moist, unstable air mass across most of England and Wales will again lead to the development of some heavy showers and localised thunderstorms. 15-25 mm of rain could fall locally within an hour, with 30 to 40 mm possible within 3 or 4 hours. These amounts could generate some surface water flooding, especially if they affect urban areas.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Warning of Rain

Valid from 11:00 on Sat, 11th Jun 2016 until 20:00 on Sat, 11th Jun 2016

Scattered, heavy downpours will develop today a\cross England and Wales, turning thundery in places. Whilst many places will miss the worst, (some even staying dry) please be aware of the risk of localised surface water flooding and disruption to travel.

This is an update to the warning, to extend the area southwestwards across parts of mid-Wales and the southwest Midlands.
